

Mainland experts to speak on Property Law and macro control policy for real estate market

(16 April 2007) Two Mainland experts will give a talk on the Property Law and the latest macro control policy for the real estate market on 8 May 2007.

The seminar, which is the latest in the series of activities entitled “Estate Agency Practice in the Mainland” organised by the Estate Agents Authority, will be delivered by Professor Huang Xiaoling of the Guangzhou Administration Institute of the Guangzhou Party Institute of CCP and Mr Cai Suisheng, President of the Guangdong Real Estate Association.

Mr Joseph Tsang, Chairman of EAA’s Professional Development Committee, said, “Property Law was recently enacted by the 10th National People’s Congress. The seminar is designed to give local estate agents who are interested in carrying out estate agency work in the Mainland a much better understanding of the current situation.”

Professor Huang Xiaoling will speak on Property Law. Professor Huang is currently with the legal teaching and research department of the Guangzhou Administration Institute. Her key responsibilities include providing civil and administrative law courses for senior municipal government officials. She is also widely experienced in the handling of real estate-related civil disputes where her main areas of expertise include Property Law, Contract Law and Guarantee Law.

A deputy research fellow in economics, senior economist and real estate appraiser, Mr Cai will give an update on the Mainland’s macro control measures in the property sector. He currently serves on the housing policy committee for the Ministry of Construction and is the President of Guangdong Real Estate Association.

The Cantonese seminar will run from 2:30pm to 5:30pm on 8 May 2007 (Tuesday) in Room 201 of the Hong Kong Convention and Exhibition Centre. Licensed estate agents and salespersons who attend the seminar will receive three non-core points for EAA’s Continuing Professional Development (CPD) Scheme.
