

The Vaccination Leave Arrangement of the EAA Staff

(1 June 2021) To support its staff to take the COVID-19 vaccines, the Estate Agents Authority (“EAA”) has announced to its staff in April this year that two hours off would be granted to staff during office hours for taking the vaccine. After each dose of vaccination, the staff could also take one-day sick leave with full pay on the same day or the following day. As to those staff who had already taken the vaccine before that, the EAA will consider making arrangement for them to be granted a one-day paid leave for each dose taken.

In order to fight the virus together, the EAA also encourages estate agency practitioners to take the vaccines after considering their health conditions. Estate agency companies are also encouraged to consider providing flexible work arrangements for their staff to take vaccines and offering paid leave for them to recuperate after taking the vaccines.
